No more managing by spreadsheets!

Energy Steward is a Contract and Trade Management Application with features to let you centralize all of your critical information in one place and make that information available to others to input, edit or simply view.

ES stores critical contract info, meters, wells and pricing (including indices). Balancing reports and even Invoices are scheduled or created manually - along with many other reports.

Until now, applications like this cost hundreds of thousands of dollars - Energy Steward can be paid for monthly with no servers to buy or manage and no annual maintenance fees.

This application is affordable to even the smallest companies, because everyone needs accuracy.

Easy to use screens with deal details allow users to track deals from creation through prior period adjustment. Balancing and scheduling both become much easier!
